Create A Play!

Draw a backdrop for your play, then cut a slit along each dotted line. Remember not to cut more than just the two slits.

Make your scenes by drawing a picture inside each box. When you’re finished, cut along the dotted line and slide the strip through the slits above. Begin your play by telling your story and pulling the strip through the theatre.
Go On A Bike Ride Scavenger Hunt

Find all of the items on your next bike ride, then draw them in the box below.

- 3 Different Kinds of Leaves
- Something Red
- Something that Begins with “b”
- A Sign
- Something Silly
- An Animal

It's that time of year again! Soon you'll be deciding how you and your family will spend the summer. Do you want to expose your kids to new activities, sports and games? Encourage their creativity and flair for the dramatic? Help them build skills to keep them active for life? Indulge their love of all things digital? Develop connections and empower them to become leaders . . . or all of the above? There are so many adventures to choose from.

Summertime is about freedom, fantasy, exploration and just letting a kid be a kid! It's a time when they can, and should, run through the grass barefoot, tumble down hills, find cloud castles in the sky and play until the sun goes down.

At Vivo™ Summer Day Camps we believe every child has the right to an idyllic childhood; learning new skills; making great friends; getting active and healthy, and having magical adventures through a variety of unique and innovative experiences. We've partnered with HIGH FIVE® and Between Friends to enhance our @Camp environment.

Following the HIGH FIVE® principles your child will: be led by a HIGH FIVE® trained instructor or coach; be provided with challenges that are suitable for appropriate age and skill level; be allowed to take part regardless of ability; focus on personal bests rather than winning; keep active with a minimum of down time; and, be given choices about what they can do @camp.

Whether your child can join us for a week or for the summer they will embark on a memory-filled journey that provides a strong foundation for future life experiences.

We look forward to playing with you!
